Styles of Geert Snel

Every day, we are on the hunt for the finest interior goods to bring heart and soul to life. We love to inspire with unique treasures from all over the world that will help you create your signature style.

This season, we introduce our four new interior styles with corresponding new pieces. We scour the globe and go from earthy 'Spirited Africa' with animal influences and ethnic artifacts, to sober and authentic 'Estancia Gauchos' where silence and space is a blessing. Forward to the 'Maharaja Palace' where opulent materials and woodwork patterns, are well represented. Our final stop is at the original and disorderly style of the 'Artist in Residence'. With great design and some well-placed eye-catchers, creativity takes on a new meaning.

Enrich your business with these worldly styles and discover our new arrivals and hidden gems.

Unlike any other.

SPIRITED Africa

The Savannah awakens; you can hear animal sounds in the background and the sun is slowly rising. Traditional mud huts with graphic prints decorate the scene, like true works of art, powerful in color or warm with earthy tones. The Spirited Africa interior is full of primal artifacts such as masks, tribal art, and animal prints. Handmade objects are robust and raw, often organically shaped, and materials such as terracotta and wood are frequently used. Select different prints to express yourself or create a more natural and pure design. Spirited Africa is sophisticated with an edge.

ESTANCIA Gauchos

Like a lone, handsome cowboy across the pampas, you round up the cattle. The Gaucho lifestyle is based on a love for the outdoors and is filled with memories. Their nomadic existence is wild and free. The Estancia interior has many unique, vintage items with an aged patina. The materials we use are rawhide, leather, woven kilims with ethnic prints and earthy tones, often faded by the bright sun. This style has a tough and industrial look with some graceful elements of iron. It has a sober and pure look with an eye for comfort. Estancia Gauchos, where silence is a blessing.

ARTIST in Residence

Imagine the artist's creative domain as a place bursting with creativity, bold and expressive, yet still organized in its chaos. Interior items have a story and contribute to the personality of the artist; work tables, cupboards, eye-catching finds, and other treasures such as memorabilia and art have been carefully collected and displayed in a nonchalant composition. This collage of stories in various styles melts together into a warm, colorful, and cheerful design.

PALAIS Maharaja

Tradition meets innovation. Old versus new. The Maharaja interior combines the age-old craft of traditional woodworking with new materials such as brass, to create a new balance together. Maharaja, which means great monarch or ruler of the Kingdom, is bathed in luxury. This is reflected by the use of regal materials such as Indian marble, golden details, and classic patterns, allowing for ultimate luxury and enough space to find spiritual peace.
